

One man killed, brother and friend wounded

THU OCT - 1 1992

A long-running dispute apparently fueled a bloody shooting spree Tuesday night that left one man dead and his brother and a family friend critically wounded, Oakland police said yesterday.

Killed in the gunfire was Larry Lee Reed 19.

Hit in the chest by a bullet that pierced his heart was John Reed, 16, while Adam Cole, 24, who police said is the boyfriend of the Reed's sister, was wounded in the abdomen and head.

They both remained hospitalized yesterday.

The shooting happened about 6:45 p.m. Tuesday behind an apartment in the 3200 block of West Street, where the three got into a fight with at least two other men.

Sgt. Mike Sitterud said the three who were shot were unarmed.
